

2017 Annual Research Report on China's Capital Market—Financial Regulation Reform in China: Comparison and Alternatives
Date of Pub.: 2017-10
ISBN: 978-7-300-24846-2
Number of Words: 584 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Wu Xiaoqiu is a Chinese famous scholar in finance. He is the Vice President, the Director of the Finance and Securities Institute, a first-class professor on finance, and the Vice President of the Academic Committee of Renmin University of China. In addition, he is also a Cheung Kong Scholar under the Ministry of Education (2007). He has had profound and deep research on macro economy, financial reform, and capital market.
About the Content
This report is consisted of three parts which are the introduction, sub-pandect, and market research. The introduction and sub-pandect parts are the main content of this book. The introduction mainly focuses on theoretical analytical logic on construction of China's financial regulatory reform, which observes and analyzes why there is need to promote China's financial regulatory reform through the logical perspective of financial structure, risk variant, and choice of financial mode. Besides, it also introduces the new modes about China's financial regulatory reform from theory and function. The sub-pandects analyze and illustrate change of China's financial regulation modes, adjustment of regulation rules at different periods, new trend of global financial regulatory reform, and how to construct a new financial regulatory mode on the basis of risk ranking and variant.

Minimum Standard on Child Protection in Humanitarian Action
Date of Pub.: 2017-10
ISBN: 978-7-300-24789-2
Number of Words: 217 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
This book is edited by the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization and translated by the Institute of Psychology of the Chinese Academy of Sciences, where the Scholar Committee of this book includes the experts from the Institute of Psychology of the Chinese Academy of Sciences, Renmin University of China, Peking University, Ministry of Civil Affairs of the People's Republic of China, and Ministry of Education of People's Republic of China.
About the Content
This book pays attention on specific situation and different needs of children at different stages when responding to disaster. Through a variety of standards and measures, this book calls upon the establishment of a complete, systematic, and sustained child system to protect children from disaster. Besides, it intends to let the working staff related to China's child protection or humanitarian action conduct more professional child protection to guard children's benefit during rescue activities in the areas affected by disasters.

Reflection on Education Arts
Date of Pub.: 2017-11
ISBN: 978-7-300-24729-8
Number of Words: 300 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Li Xigui is the President of Beijing National Day School. Since 1990s, he has proposed a lot of theme experiments about middle and high schools' Chinese study, which are based on a large quantity of readings. Besides, he also presides over the New School Behavior Study, promotes the reform on student cultivation, and constructs an ecological system model for schools, with the features of a multiple subjects, flat management structure, and selective courses.
About the Content
Reflection on Education Arts is the first work of President Li Xigui, from which he attaches a continuation with different length at the end of each article. These articles are the latest discoveries of President Li with the collaborative works with his colleagues, which embodies the revisions on the articles written 20 years ago as well as the improvement and extension.

Research on the History of the Communist Party of China by Qu Qingshan (two volumes)
Date of Pub.: 2017-11
ISBN: 978-7-300-25192-9
Number of Words: 745 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Qu Qingshan was a member of the 19th Central Committee as well as the 18th Central Commission for Discipline Inspection of the CPC. Currently, he is the Director of the Party History Research Center of the CPC Central Committee, the Vice President of the China Society of the History of the Communist Party of China and a professor.
About the Content
This title is divided into two volumes, mainly embodying 105 lectures, manuscripts, and articles of the author between 2010 and 2017. It mainly refers to theoretical innovation, important strategies of the Party, party construction, research on the Party history, study and education about the Party, and memorable articles about historical figures of the Party.

Fact Finding Logic Deconstruction
Date of Pub.: 2017-11
ISBN: 978-7-300-25164-6
Number of Words: 321 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Zhang Nanning is a professor of Hunan University (part-time) and national first-tier lawyer. He was the Master of Philosophy at Zhongnan University, PhD of Philosophy at Zhongshan University, and a visiting scholar of University College London. Currently, he is also a researcher at China University of Political Science and Law, a postgraduate supervisor at Southwest Politics and Law University, and an arbitrator of China International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission.
About the Content
Applying the methods of psychology and cognitive sciences, logical studies, and philosophical recognition, this book completely deconstructs the logical issues in fact finding, which illustrates the basic rules of it. This study is the first one that discusses the basic theoretical issues in fact finding and logically deconstructs this matter from the interdisciplinary perspective. It aims to let readers more clearly understand the operation rules of fact finding.

Contemporary Chinese Jurists' Library
Date of Pub.: 2017-11
ISBN: 978-7-300-25069-4
Number of Words: 455 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Cui Jianyuan is a specially employed professor of the Yangtze River Scholar under the Ministry of Education, a Koguan scholar, and a receiver of the special allowance from the State Council. Besides, he is also the Vice President of the Institute of Science of Civil Law of China Law Society and a legislative expert of the Commission of Legislative Affairs of the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress. He mainly teaches and studies civil law, including general provisions of civil law, property law, contract law, unjust enrichment law, and negotiorum gestio law.
About the Content
This book includes the introduction and illustration about the general principles of civil law. Besides, it also refers to the analysis about the relationship between civil law, constitution, commercial law, intellectual property law, and administrative law. What's more, it embodies interpretative theories about the general principles of civil law as well as the legislation theories of civil law and its general rules.

Urbanization, Structural Transformation and Government Public Investment
Date of Pub.: 2017-11
ISBN: 978-7-300-25124-0
Number of Words: 495 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Lin Binghua, PhD in Management, an associate professor, the Director and a postgraduate supervisor of the Department of Monetary and Finance of the School of Business of Fuzhou University. Besides, he is also a council member of the Association of Internet Finance and China Youth Economic Development Association. He mainly studies financial mechanism, securities market, and enterprise financing and management.
About the Content
Establishing a gaming model about local government's public investment, this book concludes that government's investment structure on public goods and social welfare has certain deviation when they come to optimality, according to externality of public investment and maximum of the officials' own utility. Therefore, this fact results in the structural issue that there are both excess and insufficiency in government's public investment during urbanization.

Culture of Beijing's Places of Interest
Date of Pub.: 2017-10
ISBN: 978-7-300-23570-7
Number of Words: 190 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Li Hongbo, who majored in Classical Documents at the Department of Chinese Language and Literature in Peking University, is a Master and Bachelor in Literature. He mainly studies ancient Chinese documents and literature.
About the Content
This book is mainly divided into six parts, which are the introduction to the places of interest in Beijing, the relation between places of interest in Beijing and its architectural culture, places of interest and garden culture, places of interest and religious culture, places of interest and tablet culture, places of interest and couplet culture, which puts an emphasis on Beijing's representative places of interest and their culture connotation and historical value.

Humanistic Foundation of Criminal Law (4th edition)
Date of Pub.: 2017-11
ISBN: 978-7-300-25075-5
Number of Words: 525 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Chen Xingliang is a Chinese famous contemporary expert on criminal jurisprudence study. He is a professor and doctoral supervisor at the School of Law of Peking University. Besides, he also takes the part-time title as the Vice President of China Institute on Criminal Jurisprudence, the Vice President of China Institute on Criminology, the Vice President of China Institute on Trial Theory, and the Vice President of China Institute on Penology.
About the Content
This book takes humanity reasons and the relations between experience and freedom about man's willing, which reflects the basic framework of the criminal law theories constructed by criminal classical and criminal evidence schools. On this basis, the author proposes the principle of reason and experience about humanity, from which he confirms that there is behavioral determinism from ontology and libertarianism from axiology for human beings. Accordingly, the author respectively explores the humanistic foundation of crime and penalty and legislation and administration of justice.

Rule of Law in Criminal Justice (2nd edition)
Date of Pub.: 2017-11
ISBN: 978-7-300-25049-6
Number of Words: 589 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Chen Xingliang is Chinese famous contemporary expert on criminal jurisprudence study. He is a professor and doctoral supervisor at the School of Law of Peking University. Besides, he also takes the part-time title as the Vice President of China Institute on Criminal Jurisprudence, the Vice President of China Institute on Criminology, the Vice President of China Institute on Trial Theory, and the Vice President of China Institute on Penology.
About the Content
This book is mainly divided into three parts. The first part is the general principles about rule of criminal law, which is of relatively strong theoretical nature and is the theoretical illustration about rule of criminal law. The second part is the jurisprudence analysis about criminal jurisdiction, which includes analysis on police power, procuratorial power, right to defense, and judicial authority. This part also embodies the discussions from the perspective of criminal procedure law with unique meaning. The third part is about two concrete penal regimes, from which the former one is reeducation through labor system and the latter one is community correction system.

Oral Criminal Law (2nd edition)
Date of Pub.:
ISBN:
Number of Words: thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Chen Xingliang is Chinese famous contemporary expert on criminal jurisprudence study. He is a professor and doctoral supervisor at the School of Law of Peking University. Besides, he also takes the part-time title as the Vice President of China Institute on Criminal Jurisprudence, the Vice President of China Institute on Criminology, the Vice President of China Institute on Trial Theory, and the Vice President of China Institute on Penology.
About the Content
This book is the sound recording of Professor Chen Xingliang on the courses about criminal law for the undergraduates from the School of Law at Peking University. At the part of the general introduction to criminal law, Professor Chen Xingliang systematically introduces the basic principles of crime and penalty. At the subordinate part of criminal law, the author puts an emphasis on 14 types of important crimes which are crime of intentional homicide, crime of negligent homicide, crime of intentional injury, rape, robbery, larceny, crime of swindling, crime of encroachment, crime of corruption, crime of misappropriating public fund, crime of acceptance of bribes, production and operation responsibility accident crime, crime of illegal business operations, and crime due to dereliction of duty.

Beijing's Cooking Culture
Date of Pub.: 2017-10
ISBN: 978-7-300-23569-1
Number of Words: 200 thousand words
Authorized Version: None
About the Author
Tang Xia, PhD in Literature, is a professor of the School of International Communications of Beijing International Studies University, a part-time researcher at Center for Literary Theory Studies of Beijing Normal University, an executive council member of the Institution of Ancient Chinese Prose, China Institute of Ouyang Xiu Study, and Beijing Arts Studies Society. Tang mainly studies Chinese culture and ancient literature thoughts.
About the Content
This book illustrates the general situation of Beijing's cooking culture, which especially introduces the cooking methods and their cultural connotations and features, including development and social influence of Beijing's cooking culture and evolution of Beijing's cooking culture from the perspective of society and history. Besides, it also refers to Beijing's royal and feudal official's cooking culture.	